Mr. Damon T. Hininger
President and Chief Executive Officer
CoreCivic
10 Burton Hills Boulevard
Nashville, TN 37215

Dear Mr. Hininger:

The Committee is investigating the Trump Administration’s rapidly increasing use of for-profit contractors to detain tens of thousands of immigrants, including a troubling series of reports of health and safety violations and the dramatically escalating and seemingly unchecked costs to U.S. taxpayers for these contracts.

The value of Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) contracts awarded to your company, CoreCivic, has increased sharply under the Trump Administration. CoreCivic received approximately $135 million in new ICE contract awards in fiscal year 2017, an increase of $36 million over the prior year. In fiscal year 2018, the value of ICE contracts awarded rose even higher, to nearly $141 million.¹ Additionally, CoreCivic has received large contract awards during the last two years from the Federal Bureau of Prisons and U.S. Marshals Service to operate non-immigration detention facilities.² Your Chief Financial Officer recently informed shareholders that CoreCivic’s 2019 financial results have exceeded expectations primarily due to an increase in CoreCivic’s detention facilities business.³

Under President Trump, the number of people detained by ICE has increased from a daily average of approximately 38,000 in 2017 to more than 53,000 as of June 2019.⁴ Since 2017, at

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Office of Inspector General has issued reports raising serious questions about ICE detention contractors. For example:

- In December 2017, the Inspector General issued a report detailing findings from inspections of five detention facilities that “identified problems that undermine the protection of detainees’ rights, their humane treatment, and the provision of a safe and healthy environment.” For example, at Stewart Detention Center, a CoreCivic facility, the Inspector General found security risks and problems with detainee medical care due to inadequate staffing and oversight.\textsuperscript{6}

- In February 2018, the Inspector General issued a report finding that ICE violated contracting rules to execute a contract modification with the city of Eloy, Arizona relating to a CoreCivic facility. The report also found that “ICE has no assurance that it executed detention center contracts in the best interest of the Federal Government, taxpayers, or detainees.”\textsuperscript{7}

- In June 2018, the Inspector General issued a report finding that inspections of detention facilities by ICE and a contractor “do not fully examine actual conditions or identify all deficiencies,” and “do not ensure adequate oversight or systemic improvements in detention conditions, with some deficiencies remaining unaddressed for years.”\textsuperscript{8}

- In September 2018, the Inspector General issued an urgent “Management Alert” detailing disturbing findings from an inspection of the Adelanto Processing Center, run by a contractor, finding “Nooses in Detainee Cells,” “Improper and Overly Restrictive Segregation,” and “Untimely and Inadequate Detainee Medical Care.”\textsuperscript{9}

\textsuperscript{9} Department of Homeland Security, Office of Inspector General, Management Alert – Issues Requiring
In January 2019, the Inspector General issued a report finding that ICE had granted waivers to detention contractors that put the health and safety of detained immigrants at risk. For example, in 2018, ICE granted a waiver to a facility run by CoreCivic to use toxic CS gas instead of the less-dangerous pepper spray authorized by detention standards. At another contractor-run facility, ICE granted a waiver allowing detainees with histories of serious criminal offenses to commingle with immigrants who have no serious criminal history, increasing the risk of “victimization or assault.” The report further noted that “ICE has no formal policies and procedures to govern the waiver process, has allowed officials without clear authority to grant waivers, and does not ensure key stakeholders have access to approved waivers.”

In June 2019, the Inspector General issued a report detailing findings from unannounced inspections of four detention facilities, three of which are operated by a contractor, that “revealed violations of ICE’s detention standards and raised concerns about the environment in which detainees are held.” At the contractor-run facilities, the Inspector General observed expired food, dilapidated and moldy bathrooms, and improper segregation, recreation, and visitation practices.

In light of these serious problems, please produce by July 24, 2019, the following documents, covering the time period of January 20, 2017, to present:

3. Documents sufficient to identify each facility managed by CoreCivic under these contracts, the average daily number of people housed at each facility per month, and the total number of people housed at each facility per month;

9. All documents related to waivers issued by ICE for any contractual or legal deficiencies or violations, or deviation from applicable detention standards, including any requests for waivers, waivers granted by ICE, and communications related to these waivers;
