RE: Correction to Prior Letter re Corizon Health

Dear Chairman Mendelson:

On December 13, I sent a letter to you and other members of the Council concerning the Office of Contracting and Procurement's recommendation to award the medical services contract for the District's jail system to Corizon Health, a for-profit company.

In that correspondence I stated, "Corizon is no stranger to litigation related to delaying, denying or providing inadequate medical care. A search of the federal court docket system (PACER) indicates that at least 3,200 lawsuits have been filed against Corizon since the company was formed in 2011."

That was incorrect, and I now write to amend that statement and bring to your attention a related matter concerning Corizon.

First, according to the federal court PACER docket system, 3,204 lawsuits were filed against Corizon from January 1, 2011 through December 13, 2014. However, upon closer inspection the PACER system double-counted a number of cases; this mainly occurred in cases where Corizon was listed more than once as a defendant – such as Corizon and Corizon Health, or Corizon and Corizon, Inc. In other cases that were double-counted, Corizon was named as both a defendant and counter-claimant or counter-defendant. Further, a small number of cases listed Corizon as a non-defendant, such as an interested party.

Excluding duplicates, a total of 3,096 lawsuits were filed against Corizon from January 1, 2011 through December 13, 2014. Note that this only includes cases filed in federal courts, not state courts; also, it does not include cases filed against the company by its own workers concerning employment-related issues (the PACER search criteria was for prisoner and civil rights cases). A print-out of the 3,096 suits against Corizon is enclosed, based on PACER data.

In fairness to the company, however, approximately 2,025 of those lawsuits were filed by one prisoner incarcerated in Arizona who, according to an August 14, 2014 news report, has been desperately trying to draw attention to his claims of inadequate medical care. Excluding those cases, without judging the merits of same, around 1,071 federal lawsuits have been filed against Corizon from January 1, 2011 to December 13, 2014 – or around 1 suit every weekday over an almost four-year period.

This corrects my previous statement concerning lawsuits brought against Corizon.

Secondly, I write to bring to your attention a report released by the Office of the Controller for Allegheny County, Pennsylvania on December 15, 2014 consisting of a compliance evaluation of the county's contract with Corizon Health to provide medical services at the Allegheny County Jail, which has an average daily population of 2,675 prisoners.

The 66-page report followed a February 10, 2014 letter submitted to Corizon by the Office of the Controller which cited "grave and serious concerns about the healthcare provided to inmates at the Allegheny County Jail," as well as the working conditions to which Corizon had subjected its employees. The Controller wrote the situation was "intolerable and outrageous," and demanded changes by the company. A copy of that letter is enclosed for your review.

The situation with Corizon in Allegheny County is particularly instructive because the company replaced a non-profit organization that had previously provided medical care at the jail (Allegheny Correctional Health Services), similar to the arrangement the District has with Unity. Specifically, with respect to the county's contract with Corizon, the Controller found:

- The jail's monitoring and enforcement of the contract has been insufficient;
- The jail is no longer accredited by the National Commission on Correctional Health Care, and Corizon has not complied with reporting requirements;
- Corizon has not maintained required staffing levels;
- Corizon has not maintained complete and accurate inmate medical records;
- Corizon could not produce documentation that intake health assessments were conducted for newly-admitted jail detainees as required;
- Corizon has not provided prisoners with required clinical care;
- Corizon did not comply with pharmacy management requirements;
- Corizon has not ensured the readiness of emergency equipment and supplies;

Phil Mendelson, Chairman
January 5, 2015
Page 3

- Corizon could not produce documentation to evidence pre-placement health assessments and medical and mental health rounds were performed for prisoners in segregation;
- Corizon could not produce documentary evidence to demonstrate that an appropriate triage process was used to prioritize prisoners' sick call requests;
- Corizon has not responded to medical grievances in a timely manner;
- Corizon has not provided prisoners with required re-entry services; and
- Corizon and the jail appear to have engaged in unfair labor practices.

The full report, which includes responses from both Corizon and the jail's warden, is available from the Office of the Controller: www.alleghenycontroller.com.

Thank you for your continued attention with respect to the Council's consideration of whether to contract with Corizon for the provision of medical care in the District's jail system.

Sincerely,

RE: Healthcare at Allegheny County Jail

Dear Dr. Myers:

As the Controller of Allegheny County, it is my duty to protect taxpayer funds and ensure that all public monies are spent appropriately. As a member of the Allegheny County Jail Oversight Board, I have the responsibility to ensure that the Jail is operating safely and efficiently for the benefit of the inmates and residents of Allegheny County.

This letter places Corizon on formal notice of my grave and serious concerns about the healthcare provided to inmates at the Allegheny County Jail (the "Jail") and the working conditions to which Corizon is subjecting its employees and agents at the Jail. I regard the current situation as intolerable and outrageous, and I fully expect necessary changes to be urgently implemented so that Corizon can comply with its contractual duties, its professional standards, and its obligations to the inmates, its employees and the residents of Allegheny County.

On September 1, 2013, Corizon began providing inmate healthcare services at the Jail. Under its contract, Corizon can receive as much as $11.5 million from Allegheny County. Corizon's contract is one of the largest, in terms of dollar value, in the County. Thus, you can imagine my concern when I read the facts and allegations reported in a December 8, 2013 article in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, "Allegheny County Jail Health Care Provider Struggling, Emails Show." The emails referenced in the article, which I have personally reviewed, document Corizon's apparent failure to meet basic responsibilities for inmate healthcare by not maintaining appropriate staffing levels to distribute essential medication. The article goes on to recount a situation where pregnant inmates appear to have been "abandoned" in the intake area for 24 hours. If Corizon lacks the staff to dispense routine medication and attend to pregnant women, I am left to wonder what other services it is not providing. I certainly hope that Corizon is not intentionally "cutting corners" or providing the absolute minimum care to maximize its profits under its contractual arrangement.

My concerns were further raised when I read recent media accounts of worker unhappiness in the Jail because of Corizon's management practices, leading the workers to seek union representation. Corizon then made a decision I regard as unconscionable: the termination of Sister Barbara Finch, a known union supporter, a dedicated nurse and member of the Order of the Sisters of St. Joseph, whose ministry is providing healthcare to prisoners.

In addition to these events, my office has received numerous complaints concerning Corizon, a summary of which is recounted below.

- Corizon does not submit paperwork in a timely manner to allow discharged prisoners to receive medical assistance causing delays in treatment.
- Inmates are discharged without necessary and/or correct prescriptions. It is then very difficult for those discharged inmates to receive corrective action from Corizon.
- Corizon refuses to treat inmates with certain mental health issues, characterizing those issues as "past conditions" that are not Corizon's obligations to treat.
- Corizon is not properly staffing the Jail, causing professional employees to perform healthcare tasks with which they are unfamiliar or as to which they have not been trained.
- Corizon does not maintain sufficient physician staffing levels to meet the needs of inmates suffering from mental health problems.
- Professionals at the jail lack necessary equipment and supplies to properly provide inmate care, and those professionals are not being scheduled with appropriate staffing levels to ensure timely patient care.

When Corizon first assumed its duties, its representatives appeared at the Jail Oversight Board meeting on September 5, 2013. Corizon assured the Board of its commitment to provide "24-hour" care to inmates, and touted the value it would provide to the Jail by its "wealth of knowledge" accumulated by being one of the biggest correctional health providers in America. At subsequent meetings of the Board, Corizon representatives gave no indication of any ongoing difficulties at the Jail. Indeed, at the meeting on December 5, a Corizon representative spoke about diabetes management at the Jail, with no reference to the serious medication issues that would come to light on December 8 in the Post-Gazette article. Corizon's lack of candor and disclosure to the Jail Oversight Board is concerning and striking.

I had hoped to personally raise the above issues at the most recent Jail Oversight Board meeting on February 6, 2014. However, inexplicably, Corizon did not send a representative to meet with the Board.

A period of transition is often experienced in a new contract. That period, however, has long since expired. Additionally, one would expect Corizon's transitional period to be minimal in this regard, given its national scope, its expertise and the fact that Corizon actively observed healthcare operations at the Jail in the months prior to September 1, 2013.

February 10, 2014

Under Article XII of the applicable contract, Allegheny County has the right to assess monetary penalties if Corizon does not fulfill its obligations in a "timely and professional manner." Should the matters in this letter not be resolved in a satisfactory manner, let me be perfectly clear that I, as the Controller of Allegheny County, will exercise every contractual and legal remedy available to ensure that taxpayer dollars are not being given to Corizon for any services that fall below recognized standards.

Very truly yours,
