Guidelines For Submitting Art Dear Artist,

Please read the following guidelines carefully. We are well aware of how difficult it is for an inmate artist to sell their work. And we want to make this experience as pleasant and professional as possible. We realize how much effort and care you put into your work and its presentation.

Though we take on very few artists, we assure you we look at each and every submission carefully. And though the chances are very small we will take on your work, we want to see it. We only ask for your patience as well. There is no advantage to calling or emailing to speed up the process. We will answer every submission with a brief and polite response. We will not critique work presented, there just isn't time.

Do follow the guidelines below, apply them to every potential seller you present your work to. You may be surprised how much better the response to your work is when you follow these simple steps.

What happens if we are interested.

If we are interested in your work, we will contact you by mail (or a representative by email). At this point we will want to arrange to see more of your work. If it is not locally available, we will discuss shipping arrangements. By this point we are very interested in your work, but there is still no guarantee your work will be accepted. We understand the burden and expense of shipping and we will not ask you to ship it unnecessarily. You will be responsible for the cost to get it to us, and if we do not accept your work, we will pay the cost to return it. Also at this time we can discuss commission structure and any questions you have about payment terms etc.

Response time.

In general, we are very quick to respond to submissions, within 2 to 3 weeks.

Artist and Art requirements:

You are a Ready to be Exhibited. Your style must be fully developed and recognizable as uniquely yours. You are a Professional. You are able to pack, ship, and handle your art when necessary so that it arrives undamaged. Your work must be shippable and reasonably able to be handled and stored without special technique.

What we ARE looking for:

Fresh contemporary art in all media. Emphasis on skill and talent. What we will consider, and actively looking for: original pen and ink, pencil graphic, color acrylic. Envelope art and handkerchief art is desired. Clean and presentable art. Only ONE submission to be considered. DO NOT SEND MULTIPLE PIECES UNLESS ASKED. In the event that the piece is not acceptable please include an address to return the art.

Include the following information for each piece of art or craft:

The name of the artist.

The title or name of the artwork.

The size of the item.

What it was created on (illustration board, canvas, art paper, etc.).

Medium used to create it (color pencil, acrylic, ink, and so on.).

The prisoner's asking price (I will not price any artwork or craft).

Your contact or representative's information (e-mail, phone, and mailing address).

Submission Guidelines:

- 1) One Piece for consideration. Choose the piece that represents your best work.
- 2) If possible have accurate photographs taken of your work. Digital is the best way.
- 3) Package your art with care. Remember these are a representation of your work. Ensure that the shipping method is the best to avoid damage and folding art work.
- 4) Here are several ways to send us images -

Representative: You may have a person from the outside represent your work. You will have to sign an affidavit of representation. Your representative will be your contact person with us. Do not duplicate their contact it will not speed things up. It will only cause delays. Your representative may e-mail. In the Subject, put "Artist Submission" In the Body of the e-mail include the following info Contact Information (name, email address, phone, etc.) A brief description of your art and one jpeg attachment. Title, size, medium, year, and other pertinent info about the work sent. Optional: A brief description of your art, and short bio. File attachment requirements: JPEG files only (e.g., picture.jpg or picture.jpeg) Largest dimension 1000 pixels, and no less than 600 Please, no larger than 250kb per file, Larger files will be rejected by the server.

If you must mail your submission use 1st class mail. Our Mailing Address is at the bottom of this page. Include your contact info in the package. Please save your money and use 1st class mail. Fedex, Expressmail, DHL, etc. do not get special attention. Do NOT send additional work without prior arrangement - We will refuse delivery. This just costs you unnecessary expense and risk. If you want a response, include a self addressed stamped envelope or e-mail. If you want your portfolio back, include a return envelope with sufficient postage.

Society tells us that there are hundred even thousands of reasons why people end up in prison, probation or in relationships that are not fulfilling. After asking this question to thousands of individuals who were in prison Don Clair compiled the answers.

Sedona author signs movie contract

After three years of diligent work, Sedona author Don Kirchner has signed a contract for the development and production of his book, "A Matter of Time" as a major motion picture.

In a ceremony held recently in Los Angeles, producer Paul Pompian, of Paul Pompian Productions, Inc., announced he has agreed to adapt Don's book into a theatrical feature film scheduled to begin full production sometime in late fall of 2003.

Pompian has directed, produced or served as executive producer on over 45 feature films, made-for-television movies and "docu-dramas,"

He has worked directly with such notable Hollywood actors as Martin Sheen, Charlton Heston, Carroll O'Connor, Sandra Bullock, Keanu Reeves, Robert Mitchum and Judy Davis,

"With over 25 years experience in the industry, Mr. Pompian's involvement at this time puts us in a most unique and promising position," said the author. "He's well-respected in an industry that oftentimes has questionable ethics and values."

High Ground Productions, Inc., a Sedona-based corporation, committed to developing and promoting books and movies that inspire heroism and personal courage, has purchased the rights to Kirchner's book and formed the new alliance with Paul Pompian Productions.

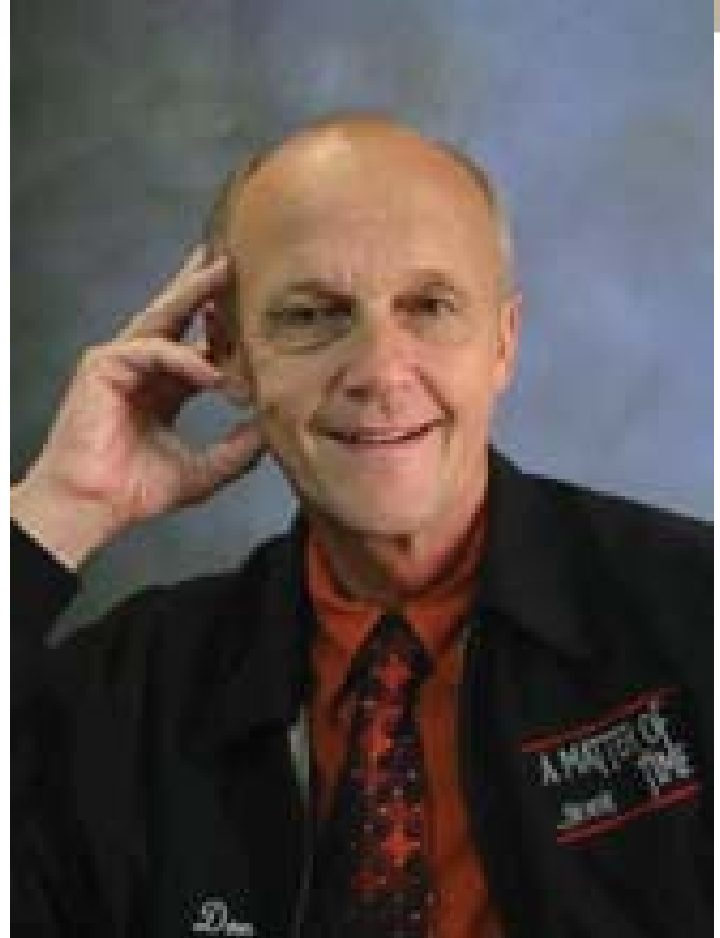

"A Matter of Time," published by High Ground Productions Inc., is a true story of Kirchner's brief but dramatic involvement with a large drug-smuggling organization in the early 1980s, which resulted in Don's serving two-and-a-half years in federal prison. Don's subsequent efforts to educate fellow prisoners and assist them in the basics of reading and writing led Don to create a prison "re-entry" program and juvenile diversion project, which gained national recognition from U.S. Senators Barry S. Goldwater and John McCain. Numerous law enforcement and federal and state correctional officials, including his own former prosecutor, U.S. Attorney David McGee, of Pensacola, Fla. have endorsed Kirchner's program. "Society for Return to Honor."

Kirchner has received numerous awards, grants and recognition for his work with incarcerated individuals, assisting them in the long and arduous process of returning home and re-creating honorable, productive lives.

"I believe that to truly make a difference in the world," Kirchner said. "One must first get strong and healthy in one's own work. The positive ramifications of a successful book and movie will do more to raise the level of awareness in various communities to which certain former offenders will ultimately return. There MUST be a system and a philosophy of 'welcoming back' the men, women and youth of this country who have made mistakes," Kirchner continued.

"Eventually, 80 percent of all incarcerated people have to come out. Given our present system of unyielding, retribution-based punishment, they're come out of their experience with a 'guns blazing' mentality. The Return to Honor program has been designed to teach personal skills and vocations to former offenders so that they can rise to a new level of functionality in society. The re-release of the book, "A Matter of Time" in April 2003 as a hardcover book, combined with the completion of the movie production, will do much for the implementation and development of the Return To Honor program," added Kirchner.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Kirchner attended Colorado State University before joining the U.S. Army in 1969 and serving a tour of duty in Vietnam as a Chief Warrant Officer and combat helicopter pilot.

Convicted in 1981 for his involvement with a marijuana smuggling operation in Florida and New Mexico, Kirchner earned unprecedented commendations from his work in prison with other inmates. His firsthand experience with inmates of all ages in federal prison inspired Kirchner to address the desperate need for a support system for inmates upon release from prison. Within six months of his own release from federal prison in April of 1988, Kirchner founded "The Society for Return to Honor" as an Arizona nonprofit corporation to facilitate the re-entry of former criminal offenders back into society.

Kirchner has written extensively on the subject of prison reform and human redemption has published numerous essays and short stories, and is currently self-publishing a book for writers on the subject of turning creative passions into business.

THE BOOK THAT'S CHANGING THE PRISON SYSTEM

Not many newly released felons exit prison with thank you letters from top correctional officials. Nor do they receive letters of commendation soon after their release from their own prosecutor, or from prestigious law-makers. But Don Kirchner did. His riveting story is eloquently told in this new memoir, A Matter Of Time. His story reveals the amazing turn of events that resulted in Kirchner turning a likely 25-year prison sentence into less than three years for having created unprecedented self-help programs for fellow prisoners while serving time in the federal Bureau Of Prisons.

A true story of the indomitable human spirit overcoming hopeless odds, A Matter Of Time calls on us to re-think our perspectives and take more courageous approaches in dealing with others, no matter what the circumstances. It encourages us to view the world through the eyes of others, and in the process experience astonishing changes.

A Matter Of Time will inspire and intrigue you as the author takes you on a journey through the shadows that keep prisoners on both sides of the walls.
