

TIME Magazine Features ADVANCED TASER

In the February 4 edition of TIME Magazine, which hits newstands on January 29, there is a full page article on the ADVANCED TASER (see page 50). "We are very excited about the national exposure of being in TIME Magazine," said Rick Smith, CEO of TASER International. "In the past month, both United Airlines and the Los Angeles Police Department have initiated ADVANCED TASER programs, clearly our technology is being widely adopted, hence gaining the attention of leading publications like TIME Magazine. Unfortunately, there are a couple of inaccuracies in the article, but we'll be submitting a letter to the editor to get them cleared up. Overall, it's a tremendous exposure for us."
